

英語 練習問題 1

第 3 問 A - 1

You are planning to go to a hospital in the UK to see your classmate. You got a reply to your question on the website.

Question: How do I go to the Boxwood Hospital from Poplar Town?

I'm an exchange student from Japan and need to visit the Boxwood Hospital on Saturday or Sunday. Tell me the way to get there.

(Mayumi)

Answer:

I'm in Poplar Town too and go to the hospital some times in a month.

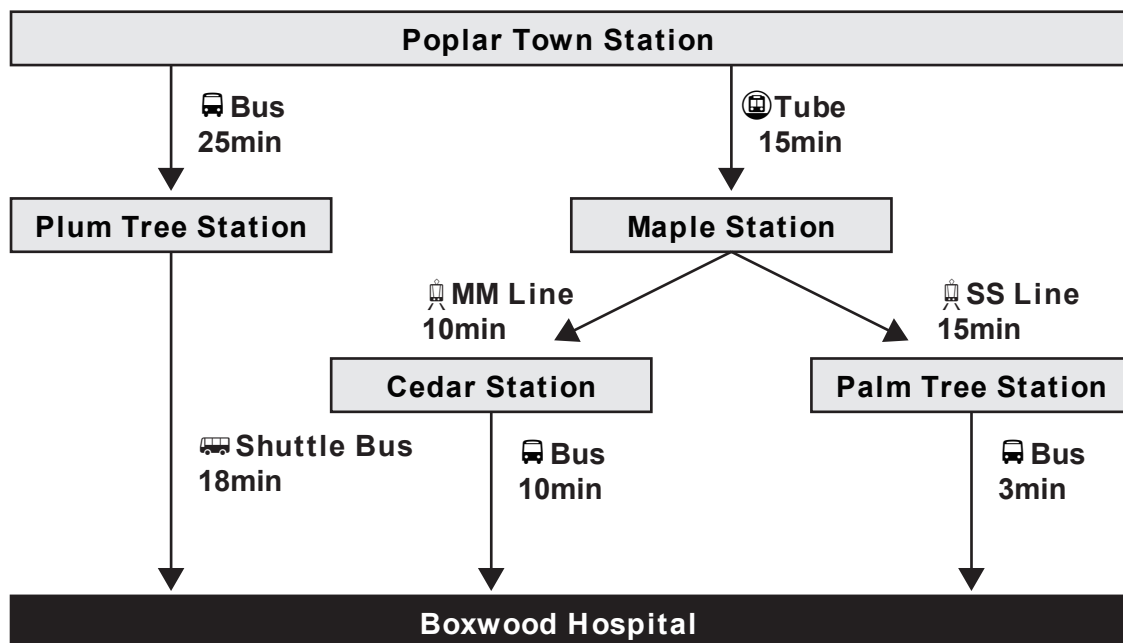

Our town is convenient to the Boxwood Hospital! For the first time, I went there as shown on my smartphone. I took the tube, and changed to the SS Line at Maple. This station is very large and it takes five minutes to change trains. At Palm Tree, I walked for two minutes and arrived at the bus stop just to find there was no bus on weekends. I went up a hill and arrived at the hospital after a 20 minutes' walk. If buses run, it takes just three minutes.

The second time, I took the MM Line at Maple. Transferring to the bus for the hospital took three minutes at Cedar station.

These days, I go there by bus and shuttle bus. At Plum Tree, these buses use the same bus stop. Also, operation of both buses is almost linked. A shuttle bus comes just after leaving a bus. There is no waste of time. Even if it takes a little longer, a route with fewer transfers is better, right? Don't go to another station with a similar name!

(Nick)

Access to Boxwood Hospital

1 From Nick's answer, you learn that .

- ① the Boxwood Hospital is closed on Sundays
- ② he went Palm Tree instead of Plum Tree
- ③ he always looks up the shortest route
- ④ he recommends the route not riding trains

{ }

英語 練習問題 1

第 3 問 A-2

- 2 On weekdays, you may get to the hospital from the Poplar Town station in minutes at the soonest. (Waiting time does not matter.)
- ① 33
 - ② 38
 - ③ 40
 - ④ 43

[]

英語 練習問題 1

第 3 問 B - 1

You will be an exchange student next year. You found the following post written by a student in a UK high school.

Life in UK

I'm Olivia, an exchange student from Netherlands. Today I'd like to talk about the interesting topic for coming students to study in the UK in the future.

I've heard and read many times that food in the UK is very expensive. Is it true? Let's check with me. In the UK there are many different supermarkets. "STU-group" and "KLM-group" are the most popular. In both Groups there are some kinds of shops.

In "STU-group" there are "STU-shop" and "SG-store". They are not so big but it's enough to buy something. Today I bought a soft drink in SG-store on my way to school. Also there is "Prime-market" in this group. It's a hypermarket and you can find everything from food to electronic devices, sports equipment, etc. There is also difference in prices in these kinds of shops. In small shops prices are a little bit more expensive than those in hypermarkets.

Speaking of "KLM-group", there are three kinds of shops; "KG-market"(small market), "K-supermarket"(medium supermarket) and "K-city market"(hypermarket). They sell things at the same prices in this chain.

Also there is "LDL", which is a German chain.

This shop is popular too and prices are quite reasonable. Last month they came to my town!

I usually buy food in Prime-market or LDL for one week ahead. Yesterday I bought food in Prime-market and now I'd like to talk about prices.

There is big variety for each kind of product by different prices. Milk can cost from £0.90 per 1 litre, cheese — from £4 per kg, bread — from £0.40 per package, meat — from £9 per kg, chicken fillet — from £8 per kg, fish — from £12 per kg, pasta — from £0.70 per 500 grams, tomatoes — from £2.2 per kg, cucumbers — from £2.5 per kg, bananas — from £1.29 per kg, etc. I think the most important thing is how you find products at cheap prices. How are prices in the UK for you?

Now let's figure out how much what I bought yesterday for one week was (I didn't buy all of the above products because I bought some of them in LDL last week). I paid £57.72 for 2 big bags of food.

Can you imagine how the supermarkets in the UK are?

1 Put the following events (①~④) into the order in which they happened. → → →

- ① Olivia went shopping to a German chain.
- ② Olivia went shopping to a hypermarket.
- ③ Olivia did her shopping in a SG-store.
- ④ LDL came to her town.

[(a) → (b) → (c) → (d)]

2 From Olivia's post, you learn that .

- ① the price of one product is the same in KLM-group
- ② LDL is the most popular in Germany
- ③ STU-group has two kinds of shops
- ④ prices in SG-store is quite reasonable

[]

3 What does Olivia want you to do first after reading her post?

- ① Cancel an exchange student programme in the UK.
- ② Look for other supermarkets in her town.
- ③ Start saving money for the life in the UK.
- ④ Compare price levels.

[]

英語 練習問題 1

第 4 問 - 1

Paul has sent email to your classmate, Shu, and told him that he will come to Japan this summer. You are reading their email exchanges.

Hi, Shu,

I feel so happy that we can meet next month. I have some ideas and questions about the schedule.

My favorite Japanese singer will give a concert on the evening of August 11 in Osaka, so I surely want to go there. As I'm in her fan club, I can invite one person for free this time. Will you go and see her concert with me? Also, I've heard that there is a famous fireworks display in Niigata. My soccer club friend has seen them and tells me to see them. So, I hope to see them.

I have one thing to ask you. I've studied Japanese conversation for three months, and I want to learn Japanese words as many as possible. I'm particularly interested in dialects spoken in Kyoto, Fukuoka and Tsugaru. Is it possible to visit these places to hear them?

As you know, in my country, baseball is as popular as in your country. Also, some Japanese players succeed in the Major League Baseball. So, I want to watch a baseball game. Yes, I remember you have suggested watching a soccer game. Let's do it as well!

I want to enjoy my stay in Japan. Settle a detailed schedule on your side.

Yours,
Paul

Hi, Paul,

Thanks for your email. It's great to hear from you.

I'm surprised to know what you intend to do in Japan! To do all should be impossible because your stay is just 3 days. But I'll do my best for you.

I would like to go to the concert with you as I haven't heard her music. Let's enjoy it! From the flight numbers in your last email, I learned that you would arrive at HND Airport at 9:20 a.m. We can meet at the international terminal of the airport around 30 minutes after your arrival. On meeting, we must leave Tokyo for Osaka.

I think you should see the fireworks display. Do you know fireworks are set off at night? Luckily, a professional baseball game is held there during your stay, but the game starts in the evening. For that reason, I request you to accept the suggestion I made before. We can watch it in the same prefecture during the daytime, and the schedule for this day should be full.

About dialects, I'm afraid that different kinds of Japanese may confuse you, for you have just started studying it. Above all, we don't have time to visit any of the districts you mentioned. Don't worry. I have a good idea.

On the final day, I'll take you to Land Park or Sea Park. The Park with less people around noon should be better. After that, we need to take a train which gets to HND Airport before 16:40 not to be late for your plane. Of course, I take it into consideration to buy souvenirs for 30 minutes and to check-in 2 hours before the departure time.

I'm really looking forward to seeing you. Check the attached files.

Yours,
Shu

英語 練習問題 1

第 4 問 - 3

- ① A → C → B → E
- ② A → D → B → E
- ③ A → C → B → F
- ④ A → D → B → F

[]

3 Unless they miss the expected train, Paul in HND Airport.

- ① can select souvenirs with Shu
- ② should be with Shu
- ③ will wait for Shu
- ④ can see off Shu

[]

4 Shu will not take Paul to .

- ① Fukuoka
- ② Niigata
- ③ Osaka
- ④ Tokyo

[]

5 As Shu's "good idea" about dialects, which would be the most suitable?

- ① Read Japanese dictionaries.
- ② Listen to recorded voices.
- ③ Visit just one of three.
- ④ Meet Shu's friend.

[]